

AHISD AUP Student Script

All: AHISD AUP

Student 1: What's that?

Student 2: Alphabet Soup.

Student 3: What is an AUP anyway?

Student 4: The letters stand for the words: Acceptable Use Policy.

Student 5: That doesn't tell me anything either.

Student 1: What is it? What does it mean to me?

Student 2: Our school's AUP is the do's and don'ts of using the internet and other things like cell phones and cameras.

Student 3: Let's start with the good stuff like the do's when it comes to using the internet:

- Stuff like using the internet at school for school things
- not sharing your username and password with other people.
- letting your teacher or parent know right away if you come across something you shouldn't watch or see.

Student 4: That sounds easy. What about the things we're not supposed to do when using the internet?

Student 5:

- don't use the internet for anything that's against the law. I can't even think of something that would be against the law.
- Don't use someone else's username or password.
- Never put your or your friend's phone number or address on the internet
- Don't use copyrighted information without permission from the right people.

Student 1: COPYRIGHT? What's that?

Student 2: Ask your teacher to explain it to you.

Also:

- Don't be a bully-don't write mean or bad things about others on the internet or email.
- Only use the school's internet when you are supposed to.

Student 3: What happens if someone doesn't follow the rules?

- You won't be allowed to use the internet

- Or worse, all students won't be allowed to use the internet anymore.

Student 4: So, really, we're lucky that our school has lots of computers and technology things for us to use.

Student 5: When we sign the AUP, we're agreeing to do the dos and not the don't's.

ALL: Go MULES!!
